A special sale tomorrow of these exquisite fabrics, from a great maker, who wins success every season in four-hand productions of greatest novelties.

These will be presented tomorrow in a full assortment of street and evening shades, also black and white, at One Ninety-eight Yard

These are the things authorized by the fashion setters, and are now in highest favor. More than ever in the history of the business will silks be favored. Expert care has been given to the selection of the silks for exacting tastes. The knowing ones are finding the right kinds here, and it is being noised around that the Keely Silks, as usual, are the most desirable in the Southern markets. Every day strengthens the vogue of silks as the leading fabric for this season.

Popular printed radiums

—are among the extremest novelties of the season and are used extensively for gowns and dresses for afternoon and dinner wear, and are also largely used in combination with plain Taffetas, making the stylish combination suits now so much in vogue. $2.50

Stylish printed crepes

—are among the most sought for materials in the fancy silk world. The famous pussy willow crepes have been largely used by the French artists in the making of model gowns. Many of the imported French dresses are made of these famous materials. $2.50

"On with the dance"

This is the dancing season. The fashionable world is "dance mad." At every function, at every hotel, dancing is the order of the day. Wherever one goes one is prepared to dance. For dancing dresses, "Taffeta's the thing." Fortunately we're ready with the latest Parisian fancy. Taffetas, more than any fabric, lends itself peculiarly to the needs of the well-dressed woman, who requires plaits, panniers, flounces and ruffles. Taffetas supply bounciness and bouffancy

Silk dresses and suits will be in great favor

To be sure, with silks as the prime favorites of fashion, silk dresses and frocks and suits will be the premier articles in ready-to-wear sections. One, two and three-piece suits are shown of silks. Dreams of loveliness they are, too, with their new Eton effects, their tunic styles, their puffs and flounces, their pannier and apron fronts. Nearly all are combined with soft sheer laces, organdy embroideries, chiffons, nets and gauze. Most of the new models are shown with lace ruffs and pretty vestes. Some have puff tunics, others have tier tunics. All are new.

New silk Dresses

Blouses are trimmed with Oriental laces and nets, with vestes of net and veiled chiffons, finished with new Medici collars and turnover lace; three-quarter sleeves, lace trimmed; skirts have pannier tunics, deep cuffs, slashed at feet; finished at waist with crushed $25

Choose your taffeta dress first

You'll remember that as long ago as November, "we told you so." Taffetas are now so scarce that they can hardly be bought at any price. None are in the hands of the jobbers. Our silk man saw the storm from afar and has laid in a supply of taffetas—(ready Monday). Nerve and a genius for following in the "lead of style," has placed him in a position to offer one hundred and fifty pieces of colors and black and changeables—In charming chiffon taffetas—36 inches wide

Special attractions in linen section

Among the many attractions in the wash goods annex are our foreign dress linen fabrics. Being in touch with the best linen centers of Europe, we have always been in position to make favorable selections from the first novelties appearing in the linen field.

- 48-inch linen ratine, in good colors, yard $1.50
- 46-inch ramie linen, best French colors, yard 50c

36-in. striped tub silks
79c
yard

Here is the silk, with wearing qualities, good for waists, tub dresses and general utility purposes. These will be shown in many new designs and patterns, for fancy dress and blouse wear, also in plain colors for drop skirts and princess slips. They are tough; they are fast colors; they will wash well; they will wear well, and they are cheap, at Seventy-nine cents yard

Plain, changeable and moire chiffon taffetas

The silk which Paris is now wearing and for which you will find a need throughout the spring is Taffeta. For gowns, suits, dresses, frocks, coats, this fabric will be in greatest demand. The silks assembled here from the world's best silk centers are being enthusiastically absorbed by the best dressmakers. Each day gives fresh evidence of the fact that our prophecy was correct. "Taffeta is the thing." Whether you buy here or elsewhere, buy quickly.

Stylish plain taffetas

—no one fabric in the dry goods business has at present such a great demand. In fact, the markets have been so thoroughly stripped of all these popular materials that they can not be had from the jobbers or the milliners at any price. Foresight of our silk buyer places us in a position to offer you taffetas in all colors. 36 inches wide, yard $1.50

Beautiful changeable taffetas

Paris, so report says, has gone mad over changeable taffetas. In fact, these fabrics are now riding upon the highest crest of public favor. The famous McGreary silks, imported for exclusive metropolitan trade, have been divided with us. We are in a position to show you this most desirable line Monday. 36 inches wide, yard $1.50

Novel moire taffetas

Novel moire taffetas spring suddenly into favor for the making of coats, spring balmaines and whole gowns. Many dress artists combine them with plain taffetas, producing most dressy effects. These are shown by us as the highest novelties obtainable this season. These like plain taffetas, are among the scarcest materials. 40 inches wide, yard $3.00

40-in. brocaded
silk ratines
$1.29
yard

This popular fabric will be shown tomorrow in 18 good colors and black and white. It is 40 inches wide. It is strong in texture and light in weight. The peculiarity of this fabric is that it combines wear well qualities with that of most zephyr weight. This is really $1.50 quality, but is shown tomorrow, for an opening attraction, at One twenty-nine yard

Clothes.

THE fashions of to-day recombine some of the picturesque features of the Eighteenth Century, and we have the flowered panner modified in various ways, the dainty fichu, and even the sleeves with their deep frills.

The gown of violet charmeuse has the skirt draped to give a slender effect around the feet, and over it all fall panniers of violet brocade. The wide girdle of silk in old gold ties in a huge bow in the back. The seated figure illustrates the back view of this gown. Here it is developed in sulphur-colored silk.

Of white brocade is the gown on the middle figure, with pannier of white taffeta. The lower part of the bodice is of taffeta, the upper part and also the very short sleeves are of embroidered chiffon. A girdle of rose-colored velvet fastens beneath a velvet rose of the same color.

LIFE PROPERTY CLAIMED BY FLOOD

Seven Persons Are Dead in Southern California and Property Loss Will Probably Exceed $4,500,000.

Los Angeles, February 21.—With a flood probably more than $4,500,000 in loss of life and property, California began to recover tonight from the effects of the worst storm in its history. With the sun shining most of today the situation improved considerably, and while nearly all of the towns affected remained isolated tonight, progress was made toward re-establishing wire and rail communication.

It is estimated that Los Angeles was damaged to the extent of $1,500,000. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars represented the damage to city streets alone. The rest represented losses sustained by railroads and by citizens whose homes were swept away by the floods.

Except in the vicinity of Pomona, this country, where young groves suffered severely, extensive groves reported comparatively little damage. Small farms and small towns in the lowlands were inundated, but no reliable data could be obtained as to the damage.

The flood situation about Los Angeles became acute early last night. Weakened by the rain of waters, power lines and telegraph and telephone wires were downed. The city was cut off from the outside world.

There was complete interruption of communication with the east. Burroughs, a telephone exchange, was cut off from the outside world.

Over 100 homes destroyed. More than one hundred homes were destroyed in Los Angeles alone by the torrents that rushed through the Los Angeles river and the Arroyo Seco.

The floods in the waterways subsided tonight, household goods and other movable property were left stranded on sandbars.

After a big steel bridge over the river broke and broke early today, the southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads were closed.

Heavy cars loaded with scrap iron and heavy machinery were stranded on the river banks.

GUILTY OF MURDERING HIS WIFE AND CHILD

Wilson's Second Wife Loyal to Him—Crime Committed Months Ago.

Gedden, Ala., February 21.—William Wilson, aged 25, farmer, was yesterday afternoon found guilty by a jury in circuit court at Oneonta, Blount county, of the murder of his wife and 4-year-old child.

It is alleged Wilson killed his wife and child, dragged their bodies to the bank of the Warrior river and hid them among the rocks and later set fire to the barn. Months later the charred skeletons were discovered and suspicion pointed to Wilson. The evidence was largely circumstantial, but more than a hundred witnesses testified. An appeal will probably be taken.

Wilson was married to his first wife in 1908. She was a native of Alabama and was a member of the Baptist church. She was a devoted wife and mother.

A Very Superb Spring Season of Rustling Silks and Beflowered Crepes--of Soft Woolens and Soft Colors.

Prospects for Spring, if we may call it that, have in the fashions of the present some wonderfully interesting things--some vitally absorbing points. To drape the feminine figure in silks of soft texture and to evolve from the art the greatest results for grace--that is fashion.

"There is downright moral support in an absolutely satisfactory gown," said some wise woman, and to this she has added the wiser closing, "Tasteful dressing is not so much a question of money as it is a question of brains."

The above has impressed us with regard to the advancing Spring fashions. For many seasons we have been encroaching more and more on the really feminine in women's dress. The Spring of 1914 has brought us up to the realization of the truly satisfactory.

And that it is brains and not altogether money that makes it so may be reasoned out. Never have we seen such designing, never have we seen such weaving, never have we seen such effects arrived at thru simple means--and this means inexpensive means. Indeed, one may wear silks today as easily as she may the cotton gown.

Let us demonstrate this interesting point in our Ready-to-Wear Departments, now full of Spring wear for women.

The Spring Suits

In the beginning, will you look over the new suits that you may buy here for $25, or yet for $19.75? You will see your search answered in truly smart fashions, in woolens of genuine quality, in the decorative touches that tell.

In the same pleasant journey you will find yet a little more elegance and bit of added elaborateness, as you advance.

You will have decided at the end of the Spring inspection that as great an assortment of elegant Ready-to-Wear as you might expect to see in any large New York emporium is right at your door.

$19.75, $25, $35, $45, $50 and up to $85

Skirts New

Plaid or plain, the new cloth Skirt is a handsome garment. The great style it carries is more than one might expect of a small garment "single handed." It is indeed small, that is, narrow, though there are a great many added tiers and tunics that make up a good bit of fabric. See these new skirts.

$5.95, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12.50 and Up

The Spring Dresses

Woolens that wear an air of clinging grace, wool crepe and challies, printed and plain, in great artistic combination--such are the trim and inexpensive street dresses with prices as low as $15.

Taffetas of great favor with little frill and silk-bound edges, with double frills and flaring godet flouncing--all with a certain silhouette that might sound improbable, yet is quite and not more than $19.75 and $25.

Getting into the more elaborately fashioned models, entering the realm of the art of striking modes and daring combinations, the writer is too fascinated to inject a very clear description into mere words. Give your artistic soul a feast here. Our dresses are priced

$15, $19.75, $21.75, $23.75, $25 and up to $85

The On-Rush of Blouses

Voile and crepe de chine have the rivalry in the blouse field. Crepe blouses are strikingly simple. Voiles are very decorative in embroidery and inset lace. Taffeta blouses are tailored and are trim between things that many women want just now.

THE AMERICA OF WILSON.

It is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the first president of the United States of America.

It is not an occasion for platitudes or sentimentality, but for stock-taking.

The America of Washington and the America of Wilson are vastly dissimilar and strikingly similar.

Some pessimists growl that we have let go of the democracy of Washington and that we veer toward centralization and plutocracy.

That view is a superficial one. There is more genuine democracy in this country today than under the administration of Washington.

The United States of Washington was a crude nation, a crude and easily influenced people.

The voters of that day were enamored of the secretive in statesmanship.

They demanded that their leaders be solemn, pompous, oratorical. They were not given to analyzing for themselves the underlying principles of government and their inalienable rights in the premises.

All that is changed. The United States of Wilson is an awakened and a vigilant nation. Its people tolerate less fold-erol from politicians, less "four-flushing." If you excuse the slang, less blatant demagoguery.

It is not enough nowadays to look wise and speak oracularly.

The statesman who stays put must "deliver the goods." He must "come clean."

The newspaper has had much to do with the transformation.

Wherever there is light, there must be intelligence.

And there has been plenty of light in this country the past few decades.

Voters know their rights; they appreciate their responsibilities; they worship party label less and civic righteousness more; they dream less of partisan triumph and more of patriotic efficiency.

What is more, the process of democratization has barely begun.

As the faculty of doing one's own thinking increases, there will be less opportunity for the shallow-pate and the demagogue.

As education is diffused and the sections mingle more, there will be less prejudice, less intolerance, more recognition of a common and a national citizenship.

The achievements of congress under Woodrow Wilson would have been impossible under George Washington.

Wilson is putting through a fundamental legislative program largely by non-partisan votes.

The politicians of Washington's day would somersault in their graves at the thought.

That contrast expresses the vast progress we have made.

Further evidence is the fact that all parties are united in expelling special privilege, in demanding civic virtue, in effecting a genuine and not a bogus "square deal."

The America of George Washington was a wonderful and a significant nation.

The America of Woodrow Wilson is a nation before the achievements and possibilities of which the older states of civilization stand baffled and envious.

It was a privilege to live here in the day of Washington.

It is a better privilege to dwell in the America of Wilson.

BISHOP GAILOR'S SLEDGE.

Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Tennessee, plainly does not love reformers-to-revenue-only, nor demagogues, whether in politics or education or religion. He intimates as much in a scathing statement recently addressed to the clergy of Tennessee.

Here are some of the more pregnant thrusts of this truly virile thinker:

"Our country awakens with the salient representative and agents of great elementary foundations, so-called industrial, educational, religious, and these agents must earn their living by advocating reforms in their several departments.

"Thus, the whole stress of thinking and planning for the improvement of education, in educational and political valuations. This is true to an alarming extent. In educational and political valuations. This is true to an alarming extent. In educational and political valuations. This is true to an alarming extent.

located, given a local pride in his or her work and the loyal support of local influence.

Dr. Claxton's theories comprehend these ideals.

It would be well if some adaptation of them could be applied uniformly in rural education throughout the United States.

BUSINESS ISN'T AFRAID.

James J. Hill, the "empire builder," recently told Chairman Adamson, of the house commerce committee, that the business of the country should entertain no fear of the administration's trust legislation program.

The verdict of a man like Hill ought to be final.

He has always been optimistic about the future of this country. But he has not always been optimistic about legislative tampering. It was he who said that congress ought to go home and give itself and the country a long vacation. When, therefore, he expresses himself in terms of hopefulness regarding the effect of legislation upon business, he is speaking as one with good authority.

Best of all the big railroad master of the northwest is wholly correct. Mr. Wilson months ago signed a trust with business.

He has shown conclusively that he has nothing in common with the demagogue, that the politician who would bait business for selfish profit must go without presidential support.

It is, of course, inevitable that there should be trust legislation. It is also wise. For in the present incoherent condition of the law, no man knows who is violating and when he is observing the statutes.

The "twilight zone" is a thing of barbarism, economically speaking.

No other great and growing and ambitious world nation would tolerate uncertainty with regard to its fundamental enterprises.

That the United States has thus long put up with doubt and uncertainty is tribute to the patience or the indolence of its honest business interests.

The term of waiting now is to end. Business will shortly know exactly where it stands.

Once that statute is made plain, prosperity will go forward at a record pace.

The currency law will soon be organized. The tariff has already been tried out. With disposition of confidence about the trust and business situation, we ought to reach back into a measure of that affluence that marked the years just preceding 1906.

UNCLE JOE'S SAMENESS.

The Chicago Record-Herald does not take too serious note of the canon's reaffirmation of political and other pessimism on the occasion of his Lincoln's birthday address.

The ancient essayist had inveighed with his usual expatriate against democratic "errors" and predicted dire calamity to the country from the effects of the administration's program.

It is the theory of the Record-Herald that Mr. Cannon was born and reared in a political school that thought nothing but evil could come out of the Naazareth of the opposition party. It believes that ingrained habit of thought is now tincturing the utterances of the Danville.

Probably so. The politics of yesterday was a pretty narrow and intolerant proposition.

It taught the doctrine that the "other fellows" were offspring of the devil and that no epithet was too mean and no humiliation too degrading to be visited upon them. Patriotism of the neo-geographical type played precious little part in its cogitations.

That point of view is largely one of the past.

While we still have rival parties and partisan jockeying, and always will, there will never be a return of the acrimony and the bitter personalities that we have known.

The country has grown and our mental horizons have broadened with it.

We incline more to pitch our political differences upon intellectual grounds than do those of sheer expediency, and the sign is an extremely healthy one.

Not that partisan politics as yet approaches apoplexy. Far from it. But there is visible an improvement that augurs well for the general welfare of popular government in this country.

Don't worry. Hobson is not going to place himself in the way of getting his by umpiring a game with that Japanese ball team.

The difference in the Colonel is that he wants three or four "Futons" right here, on this political old earth.

The government has published another book explaining the income tax. It is not more mystifying than the others.

The one-man party is having the time of its life trying to hold on when its founder seems to have turned loose.

Uncle Joe Cannon talks out in meeting like an ex-statesman who fears the public will forget him.

The St. Louis Republic thinks the mother-in-law should have a day. So do the unwise seek to stir trouble when all is serene.

Standard Oil gets a foothold in China. Thus do the Meek continue to inherit the earth.

Just from Georgia

"Till My Old Man Come Long."

If I should go before him
I'd sing no glory-song;
I'd only wait there, at the gate,
Till my old man come long.

Since he ain't home
without him,
Though there the children throng,
I'd wait I say in heaven's high day,
Till my old man come long!

I'd tell the good God yonder,
Where peace and joy abide,
How bright and sweet the world was
When he was at my side!

To me the heavenly music
Would seem a note gone wrong—
I'd hold it in my heart there
Till my old man come long!

That's the one thought comes o'er me—
Prayed be the Lord His name!
And if he'll call before me
I'll only be the same!

When in the later night
Life, like a dream, is past,
I'll wait at my own altar—
Till my old man come long!

I hope that the admission has eased his conscience, but I wish to say that it will not divert the collection to his own pocket. The church knew of his heathenish tendencies all along, but it has no intention of supporting him in them."

Clean-up Day, March Tenth

Again comes the clarion call, "Clean-up!" This time its importance is emphasized by the fact that your leader sends her message from the bedside of a desperately ill sister.

Ever prompt and faithful in her work for the federation, Mrs. Logan Pitts is a leader of wide influence. Club women everywhere know how she has popularized "Clean-up Day," and how she has worked for civic cleanliness and beauty. Today she reminds you that March 10 will be "Clean-up Day"—the day set apart by the General Federation to be annually observed in the southern states.

The observance of this day has already proven its worth in municipal housekeeping. It has transformed many places of filth and ugliness into beautiful places of cleanliness and beauty. It has become a familiar custom to make cleanliness a part of the life of every citizen. It has become a familiar custom to make cleanliness a part of the life of every citizen.

Every child should belong to some organization that is working for the betterment of the community. The children are easily interested in "Clean-up Day," and their participation makes cleanliness a part of the life of every citizen.

Let each club appoint a clean-up committee to go about the city and inspect every corner before March 10. Have arrangements perfected for the removal of refuse and garbage and all kinds of refuse from streets, rear of stores, back yards, etc. Away with the breeding places of flies and mosquitoes! Let each club meet the local conditions of its community.

Mrs. Pitts believes that the club will receive the cooperation of all club women in sharing her responsibility as regards this day, the true to her trust and to your obligation.

With $55,330 Raised for New Hospital, Citizens Are Urged to Give Help in Raising $44,670.

The Baptists of the Atlanta association have raised since February 1, when work was begun, $55,330 toward the $100,000 they have pledged themselves to give in conjunction with another $150,000 from the Baptists throughout the state of Georgia, which is to be used in erecting one of the most modern Christian hospitals in the southeast.

The board of trustees of the Georgia Baptist hospital, who are charged with the promotion of this enterprise, have worked faithfully. They have reached the point in the campaign when a vital effort must be made to finish raising the funds, and they now call upon all citizens of Atlanta and Georgia to come to their aid.

Up to the present date only Baptists have been appealed to, and subscriptions have been accepted only from people of that faith. While this institution is the property of and operated under the auspices of the Baptist church of Georgia, it is in nowise sectarian; during the first seven months that the hospital was conducted under its present management (April, 1912 to October, 1913), it cared for more people who were not Baptists than those of its own denomination; to be exact, 142 Baptists and 146 of other religious faiths.

Monument for Everybody. So, while in the campaign for the greater hospital, Baptists are especially appealed to, and this movement is to them one of the greatest opportunities of bringing the Kingdom of God to the world, yet the work done here is of so wide a scope, and so universal, that it appeals to all men and women of all creeds and of no creeds in particular. The basis of admission to the hospital is not human creeds, but human needs. Jesus of Nazareth, the most attractive personality the world has ever known, touched men at the point of their greatest need, their physical suffering, and in this way brought them to see their need of soul healing through His sacrifice for them.

Gifts of Churches. In the city of Atlanta the following churches have given to the $100,000 fund pledged by the Atlanta Baptists:

Grace Episcopal	$100.00
First Baptist	100.00
First Methodist	100.00

Savannah, Ga., February 21.—In his lecture on the Army League tonight, General Robert K. Evans, United States Army, declared that unpreparedness for war was warranted by the teachings of Christ, and lack of interest in adequate armament is a menace to the national welfare.

"If we don't wake up and insure peace by means of establishing an adequate armed force," said General Evans, "we are going to suffer, terrible humiliation in the next war. We shall have to take what the victors choose to give us. It is not unreasonable to foresee a foreign and a home war, and even a part of our present territory. There is practically nothing to be done."

A strong army is nothing more than insurance of peace, Korea, for instance, had no army, and Japan put Korea in her pocket."

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, No. 24 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years' treatment by special physicians. I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints."

Read this, you great multitude of women and men also, who have been for years victims of sick headache. If you do not believe it is true write to Miss Nettie E. Bogardus and find out the truth. Every one interested in the subject of sick headache should read the article on page 18 of the "Life of Miss Nettie E. Bogardus, Columbus, Ohio. Those who object to liquid medicine can now procure Peruna Tablets.

THE MONA LISA

International interest centers in the trial of Vincenzo Perugia, the Italian painter who was arrested at Florence, Italy, a few months ago on a charge of stealing the famous Leonardo da Vinci painting, "Mona Lisa." He confessed he stole the picture from the Louvre in Paris.

This Opinion Advanced by Norman Angell in Lecture on Saturday.

The subject of "peace" created quite enthusiastic interest in Atlanta Saturday night, when Norman Angell, the world authority on the subject, delivered a lecture at the Carnegie library to a large audience.

The convention of the peace society at The Hague will never prevent war, public opinion alone will do away with the fanatical and savage ideas of war. The powers will not be allowed to fight in the direction. The Balkan war, he said, was a mistake, and it would have been better if it had been a European struggle. The same idea has to do with European banking interests. When a panic strikes London, the banks over here go up on the rate of interest, and the same way when American markets experience a depression.

Pythian Jubilee Ends. Washington, February 21.—The gold-fest of the Knights of Pythias in session here for the last three days, came to a close tonight with the closing ball. The closing day was given over to a light and frolicsome program at Mount Vernon.

London, February 21.—The long cherished theory that the world's surplus feminine population could be married off if it could be persuaded to migrate to the Antipodes is not borne out in a report of the dominion's royal commission upon the demand for women in Australia. Women are wanted badly in the great island continent, but not so much for marriage as for domestic servants.

So great is the demand, according to the report, that many of the girls sailing from England have been engaged by wireless as cooks and servants in Australian households before their steamer reached port. In some cases men have been so hard up for cooks that they have gone out in tugboats to meet incoming vessels to make sure that they have the first pick of girls seeking employment. The first few days following the landing of the immigrants resembles an old hiring fair, where employers besiege the labor bureau in hundreds and in a short time every newcomer desiring domestic work is pretty certain to have secured a situation at wages more than double the sum which she could command in England.

The commission learned of complaints that the scarcity of servants in Australia involves such a burden on housewives that it was affecting seriously their health and even acting as a check upon the much desired increase of the population.

What Progress? (School Education) How do you measure your stature as compared with a year ago? By the size of your bank account. If you are a housewife, you have gained, by the knowledge you have gained, by the things you have achieved for humanity? Compare your present with your past. This is today as the result of moral action that the world's efforts have created within you?

Railroad Detective Wounded Intruder, Who Succeeds in Making His Escape.

Shot twice in a duel in the darkness of a freight car with a negro burglar whom he wounded in return, G. H. Bennett, a youthful railroad detective, in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line, was rushed to the Atlanta hospital last night, where he is expected to die at any moment.

The negro, although wounded, escaped, leaving his hat behind after stumbling to his feet from the fall he received upon being struck. Two bullets took effect in the detective's body, one entering the abdomen and the other piercing the left lung. His death is expected. Detectives are scouring the city for his wounded assailant. Bennett was covering his territory in Howell Station, near the Seaboard Air Line freight yards, last night some time after 8 o'clock. The section was dark, and the atmosphere was cloudy and damp. As he stood around a loaded freight car attached to a string that had just been brought to the yards by an incoming train, he observed a negro slip stealthily from between the cars.

The negro poked the seat, slid the door open and crawled in. Bennett followed, jumping through the door in a bound, his revolver in hand. As he scrambled from the floor there came a flash of flame from the negro's pistol, the detective stumbling from the bullet that plucked into his body.

He opened fire in direction of the shot, a second bullet coming in reply, striking him in the chest. As he fell, he fired again and again, three shots in all. The negro fled twice more leaping over his victim's body and jumping to the ground.

Bennett stumbled to his feet and fired as the burglar stumbled to his feet and started to make away. At this shot, the negro fell to the ground, crying in pain. Bennett fell back exhausted, crying for help. Members of the yard crew who heard the shots rushed to the car, to find the injured detective groaning on the floor of the car.

The hat of the negro was found on the spot where he fell. A spot of blood was found near by and a pocket knife, also splashed with crimson. These clues were turned over to the detectives, who are searching for their owner.

The Greenberg & Bond ambulance was called and Bennett was hurried to the Atlanta hospital. He has been connected with the Seaboard for a considerable while and bears a good record. He is married and lives in the neighborhood of the Seaboard Air Line bridge, which is near by the spot where he was wounded. His age is 24 years. The police have been working for cases of men robbers, believed to be the work of a gang, and it is thought to be one of the members.

Embassy for Argentina. Buenos Ayres, Argentina, February 21.—The Argentine government will send to congress during the approaching session a bill for the appointment of an Argentine minister to the Argentine embassy at Washington. This bill was made today by Jose Luis Murature, foreign minister.

Station Agents Want Members. Boston, February 21.—The Order of Railroad Station Agents voted today to send organizers throughout the country to increase the membership. The convention endorsed the 5 per cent increase in freight rates asked for by eastern railroads.

R. M. Jetton Acquitted of Murder of Dr. Wooten—Alleged Attack on Mrs. Jetton.

Charlotte, N. C., February 21.—R. M. Jetton tonight was acquitted here of the charge of murdering Dr. W. M. Wooten, at Davidson, N. C., several weeks ago. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, after having the case under consideration but a short while.

The verdict was greeted with a wild demonstration by crowds which had gathered outside the courtroom.

More than ten hours were taken up today and tonight in argument of the case and in the judge's charge. The state asked for one of three verdicts—first degree murder, second degree murder, or manslaughter. The defense rested its case on the "unwritten law," and self-defense, contending that Jetton shot in defense of his home, to save his eight-months bride from being assaulted by the physician, while Jetton himself was being attacked by the stranger.

The statement indicated that Wooten was not only an intimate friend of the Jettons, but present in the home that night by invitation, and that he pressed the opinion in the courtroom tonight that the judge's charge favored the prosecution, and went wild with joy when they heard him acquitted.

And in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A day or two later, and you will find that your hair has been neglected or is scraggy, thin or brittle, and is in need of beautifying the hair, Pandina cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you at first—yes—but really, new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty soft, luxuriant and wavy hair, get a 25-cent bottle of Pandina's hair cleaner from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

The Field of commerce is strewn with advertising corpses that have fallen in spasmodic attempts to accomplish without experience what has proven comparatively easy to those who know.

That there are hundreds of successfully advertised articles and that the number is daily growing goes to prove that advertising (properly applied) is a success.

It's just a question of method. The right method wins—the wrong loses. The other man's plan will not fit your needs.

Each problem is individual. To know what to do and what not to do—beforehand—constitute the real elements of advertising success.

Very few indeed are thus equipped.

In the South, the Massengale Advertising Agency of Atlanta, Ga., with offices at New Orleans, Memphis, Louisville and Jacksonville, has kept abreast of modern development. They not only have copy, art and checking departments, but maintain an expensive department for the sole purpose of aiding patrons in solving their problems of salesmanship and distribution.

The newspapers and magazines of the United States and Canada unite in paying this agency for their service to advertising, in order that their facilities may be offered to the advertiser without charge.

The illustration shows a steamship on the right and a train on the left, both rendered in a detailed, etched style. The word 'RINGLINE' is written in large, bold, serif capital letters across the top of the advertisement. The letters are black and have a slightly distressed or hand-drawn appearance. The steamship is a large, multi-decked vessel with a prominent funnel. The train consists of several locomotives and passenger cars, moving towards the left. The background is a simple, light-colored surface, possibly representing a sky or a plain.

Fire-Proof Paint Factory Con- sidering More Advantageous Location for Plant.

When Messrs. Cook and Rosebush, of Birmingham, opened a branch office here for the Silver Roof Paint company, they said they had been told by Atlanta to be a "small town," as it is not a city. They said they had the opinion that they would have hard fighting here to establish themselves. Mr. Cook stated yesterday that he had been entirely misinformed regarding Birmingham for quite a number of years and had gotten that city worked over. He said he had been told to take him long to wake up when he got here, and the consequences were that he had been here for a long time. He had a talk with Mr. Huffman, president of the Silver Paint company, and he said he had been told to take him over to Atlanta last week with the view of locating their plant here.

The one real town of the south, and he thought it was the only town that was a city, he said, and he had been told within a few days they would give him a city. He said he had been told they would literally take him over their point, and let Christ Cummings see the results. He said he had been told they would take him over their point, and let Christ Cummings see the results. He said he had been told they would take him over their point, and let Christ Cummings see the results.

"Our house sales together with orders from road retail will surpass the sales even of Merchants' week," said D. Yates talking of the bright trade that is expected to be the result of the Ridley-Williamson-Viant company's Spring buying of fabrics on West Atlanta or any other large center. "This causes diversity in our lines and makes it necessary for us to be alert to anticipate the season's change of styles," he said. "It is our conviction that it does not matter whether the farmer and the business ability in the rural districts or the domestic and the city dweller in the east or west or the laborer in the east of living, but an advance in the cost of goods and the ability to provide a better living and a more comfortable life is the life." The accompanying picture shows the unique and attractive of colors combinations offered the trade by the firm. The display is so arranged that the customer can see the new dress form in the window and be worn this spring in dress fabric showing the new weaves, novel colorings and the latest in the line of fashion effects so much in vogue, emblematic of the best of the textile manufacture. This manner of showing the goods is the way that the jobbers throughout this section and no doubt it will be quickly adopted by the retailers.

What Constitutes Success?

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his mind and his soul with noble thoughts; who has accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether improved bodily, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of his own life, or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction.

Handling Complaints.

There is no department in a retail store that should be handled with more care than the complaint department. A customer never returns goods for the mere pleasure of returning them. For some reason they are not satisfactory and it is up to the merchant to make them so. The merchant should be satisfied to him or else give him credit for the goods returned or refund his money.

There is nothing that makes the customer feel more uncomfortable than to be dealt with in an unpleasant manner when he returns goods. It is just as easy to accept the merchandise that is not satisfactory to him in a pleasant manner as it is to receive it in a way that makes him feel that he does not want to do business in that store.

Complaints are received with a high price. Politicians pay big dividends and a reputation for courtesy is a valuable asset. Of course goods are sometimes returned slightly soiled or otherwise unfit for use. This is only a temporary loss, but the customer has been accommodated and the merchant has a satisfied customer.

Pointers in Store Lighting.

In very dark surroundings a light is apt to glare unpleasantly, while against a light background it is hardly noticeable.

The fact that a white object appears to the vision with a dark object contrasts, is an influence in choosing interior colors. Applied to the store, it means that the interior that is painted in light colors will make the store brighter and more attractive.

It is advisable to graduate the colors from light at the ceiling to dark near the floor.

Texas Optimism.

(From The Houston Post.) It is due to be a little frosty this morning, but February frost is all a part of the divinely appointed plan to raise $100,000,000 worth of agricultural products in Texas this year.

H. L. ATWATER DIES; FOUNDED U. C. T. LODGE

The funeral of H. L. Atwater, formerly president of the Georgia Buggy company, and a resident of this city, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Atwater, 114 Marietta street.

Mr. Atwater gradually declined in health for the last few years until a few weeks ago he was taken to a private hospital, where he died Friday.

Mr. Atwater was father of Atlanta Council No. 18, of the United Commercial Travelers of America. He was the first president of this association in this city. He had a very large account of business, and was one of the best of whom will mourn his death.

Getting to the Buyer.
A salesman from a shoe factory was very anxious to sell a large consignment of shoes to a large store.

The salesman's card came in with a nickel to pay for it and break the news kindly that nothing was doing.

The office boy returned with another card.

What's that for? asked the capricious buyer.

Sellie said you weren't getting your money's worth, replied the boy. He sells two of these cards for a nickel.

The salesman got in.

One of the best of them is Maxine Elliott; and to have tea with her, at Hartsbourne Manor, her house in Bushey, I have several times flown over from Hendon, with Mr. Hamel."

In the past six months, Miss Davies has been in an aeroplane only twice, having flown once to Brooklands, and once to Hendon, and the other days, to London, to do her housework. Asked how she felt during this then unique experience for a woman, she replied: "I enjoyed it more than any previous flying experience I had. I was nervous for perhaps the first time, some slight sense of the accompanying risk. You have read, no doubt, that I was strapped into the cockpit. I was wearing my straps were placed around my shoulders, but they were quite loose, and, to make matters worse, not having been certain that Mr. Hamel was going to attack the deep canyon, I may have worn a smooth, pony-skin coat. Moreover, for the first time, we were flying not in a biplane, but in a Morane-Saulnier, a single-engine airplane. I sometimes felt, just as we were starting

A more serious case is reported from a woman employed as housekeeper at a large farm, which is declared to be the source of the epidemic. The woman was 40 years of age, and had been married for 15 years after her discharge from the hospital. She had been living with her husband and five children in a small cottage in the village. She had been living with her husband and five children in a small cottage in the village. She had been living with her husband and five children in a small cottage in the village.

An epidemic of mumps has become so serious in London that lively business has been started for a vaccine against the disease. Mumps is on the list of notifiable contagious diseases and the result has been that during the outbreak of the disease last winter the epidemic has gone wildfire through the office district of the city.

A physician has written to the press protesting against the levity with which the outbreak has been treated by the press. He asserts that are nonspecific against mumps or measles, and preventive measures should be taken.

The discussion is the abolition of the honored grand jury. In this body, it is argued, has come modernity, the "superfluous" and "extraneous" work which has been done already by criminal cases by the committing magistrates or that which has to be done later by the common jury, and is only a waste of time and money. It is the abolition of the grand jury in the world now, and the grand jury to find out the case where a magistrate has committed a prisoner for trial. The grand jury is a relic of the past, and its abolition it constitutes a social distinction, and many worthy English will resist the loss of this opportunity above the coming of modernity.

The New Spring Fashions Call For Stylish Silks of Many Kinds All of Which May Be Had at Rich's

Spring promises the greatest silk season of history. Not only for the quantity of silk to be used, but in the richness and diversity of the designs. A glance over this list will show how well we have interpreted Fashion's page:

Chiffon Taffetas—First and foremost on Fashion's page, being stock in variety. Solid colors, changeable and two-tone effects and black. All 36 inches wide. Colors $1.50; black $1.50 to $2.50.

Fancy Taffetas—White stripes grace a background of color; spaced floral patterns on white; little buds and sprays play hide and seek over a sea of shimmering color, 24 and 36-inch widths. $1.25, $1.50 and $2.

Hoot, Mon, the Plaids Are Here!—Bonny plaids, rich and colorful, delightful for waists and skirts, with brighter, gayier plaids for trimming purposes. Some are of Scotch silks, 26 in., at $1.50; others are of chiffon satin, 36 in., at $1.75.

Tapestry Silks—interspersed with gold or silk tinsel, the dainty buds gleam and glister like glorified pictures. Smart for vestings and trimmings. 18 in., $1.50.

Moiré Française—A sublimated moiré, now the rage in Paris for coats and suits. Soft and supple, it is ideal for draperies, with body enough without being too heavy. "Copenaghen," mustard, new sage, navy, plum, wistaria, myrtle and black, 44 inches; $2.50.

Paul Point Silks—Spaced floral effects from designs furnished by the greatest Parisian dressmaker. For fine gowns, wraps and trimming purposes, 40 in., $4.50 and $6 a yard.

Crepe de Chine—The perennial favorite. Scores of colors, including all the new shades and black and white, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.

Faile Crepe—A charming silk combining the strength and service of Faille with the grace and beauty of crepe. Rich, lustrous surface; black, white and leading colors; 42 inches, $3.50.

Flowered Silks—A garden of buds and posies; little Johnny-jump-ups of the forest; magnificent spaced floral patterns. Embroidered and bestrawed on crepe silks, $1 and $2.50.

Foulards—Chinese and Japanese patternings; the symbolism of the Orient; the bright colors of the Cubist; refreshing flowers and fruits—there beauty is the keynote of every fine, every pattern being, every fiber of the weaving. Shower-proof and dust-proof in two widths and three prices, $1 and $2.

Imprime Matelasse—A rich fabric for coats and trimmings. Heavy satin ground with matelasse figures worked out in silver or gold. 40 in., $6. (Silk Salon, Main Floor, Left Annex.)

A Score of Exclusive Suits

Faithful Reproductions of Paris Models That Tell "What's What" in the world of Fashion

—The fact that the originals of these suits were designed by the foremost couturiers of Paris does not constitute their chief claim to interest—there is much, even, that Paris produces that this shop would not sponsor.

—The suits are of value to women seeking the individual and exclusive, only because every model is a true type of the highest and best in dress.

—Materials are chiefly wool crepes and serges; silk failles and moires, and wool serges combined with silks. It is in these combinations that the Paris couturiers have achieved their most artistic effects. Space does not permit a detailed description of each suit; you will only realize their full measure of beauty when you slip one on.

Prices $65 to $157.

Have we soared too high? We really don't live among the stars—we have scores of suits in the approved Spring styles at $19.75, $25, $35 & $50.

The New Hats Are As Becoming To You As They Appear Here

—Women have been trying on—and freely buying—the new Spring Hats. In the mass, styles appear odd because of their novelty. The right model selected and properly placed on the head, however, is decidedly becoming.

—Hats are small and medium with high trimmings. Usually worn on top of the hair and no more drawn over the ears as last season. Bicornes and Tricornes, semi-sailor and derby shapes are "good." Picturesque flat-top, high-back shapes—called Watteau, after the painter—prettily complement gowns featuring bouffant draperies.

—Milan hemp is the favored straw. Black, "nigger-head brown," odd shades of green and plum are among the leading shades. Styles in general hark back to the revised modes of 1830. When you try them on we think you will agree they are most becoming. $10, $12.50, $15 to $50.

(Millinery, Second Floor.)

Here Are the New Corsets

Plus a New Corset Service That Insures the Highest Satisfaction

A corset must be rightly chosen, rightly fitted and properly adjusted each time to be at once a support for the body and a foundation for the costume. The "uncorseted" figure of the moment represents the perfection of corset fitting—for it means perfect control with great pliability.

Since no one make of corset will give this "perfect figure control" to all women, we have intelligently selected from the leading corsets of America the following:

- Gossard
- Fleur De Lis
- Madame Grace
- Bon Ton
- La Belle
- La Greque
- De Bevoise, H. & W., B. & J. Brassieres and bust confiners and H. & W. Waists.
- Royal Worcester
- C. B. & La Spirit
- Warner's Rust Proof
- Rengo Belt
- Nemo
- P. N., Etc.

Given this carefully selected stock and salespeople trained to identify the type of figure for which each model is intended, you have one of the fundamentals of Rich's Corset Service.

Please Note: Our buyer, Miss Brown, has but recently returned from the New York and Chicago markets. She not only carefully studied the new corsets, but also took a special course of instruction in their fitting. One of the little things that partly explains why Rich's new corset section is daily growing larger and better.

NEW SPRING NOTES

THE Spring hats are characterized by simplicity—simplicity in line and in trimming. Feather fancies will still be worn. The Turkish fez hat in the centre by Saget, demonstrates one of the leading styles for a youthful face. A hat that extends out more over the eyes, suggesting an eave, is more becoming as a rule than this flat effect.

In dresses and suits the fullness at the back of the skirt is noticeable, due to the bustle influence, which also has brought it about that nearly all the new coats are adaptations of the Eton jacket or of the bolero.

The jacket in the centre is short, and ends at the belt line, the pelum not being attached to it. This three-piece suit, designed by Martial and Armand, is made of apple green permo, one of the new soft mohairs. The pleats down the side of the skirt are not allowed to flare, being sewed on the under side to a piece of tape. The waist is made of the mohair and chiffon. The peculiar collar is made of darned net, wired so that it stands up. The cut of the waist suggests the bolero.

The automobile coat in the upper cut, by Bernard, is made of yellow flannel, trimmed with white duvetyne. The yoke dropping over the shoulders, illustrates a vogue of the season, as does also the long, low bell line and the fullness beneath, set in with pleats. The hat, by Virot, is of white duvetyne, trimmed with a fly-away and a yellow veil, weighted with amber ornaments.

The street suit below is of brown duvetyne, edged with braid. The cutaway lines will be noted. The collar is made of book muslin, which will be much worn this Spring.

PROMOTERS HAVE BIFER FIGHT

Gotham Men at Loggerheads and New York Fans Are Getting Good Shows as the Result.

By JAMES J. CORBETT. (Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.) New York, February 21.—(Special.)—The two foremost boxing promoters of Brooklyn are at loggerheads and are mounting shows in opposition to each other. Both declare that it will be a case of the survival of the fittest, and that they intend keeping up the warfare until one or the other is forced to surrender. Brooklyn sports are to be the losers.

Several newspaper writers have referred to the quarrel between the two promoters, who were former partners and associates in the management of the "Gotham" club, as "the most unfortunate for the sport." It is not likely that the promoters will be able to reach an agreement. The promoters are at loggerheads and are mounting shows in opposition to each other.

What boxing Gotham needs—among other things—is a more serious competition. If some promoter would come to the rescue of the sport, it would be a great help. The promoters are at loggerheads and are mounting shows in opposition to each other.

Johnnie Kilbane, the featherweight champion, has been a success in his career. He has won many fights and is a popular figure. The promoters are at loggerheads and are mounting shows in opposition to each other.

Promoters to Blame.

I mention these names, the first of which is the name of the promoter. The promoters are at loggerheads and are mounting shows in opposition to each other.

ATTACK OF BEARS ON STOCK MARKET

Depression of American Stocks in London Caused Decline in New York Market

New York, February 21.—The latest developments in Mexico depressed American stocks in the London market before the opening here. In the home market, a sharp attack was made by bear traders at the outbreak of the London market, but subsided in several points. Among the standard share losses were general, although limited.

Several months ago the Mexican situation figured prominently as a factor in the market, but since then it has exerted little influence and it was apparent that no genuine concern was felt by investors in the market in the latest developments. The market failed to recover opening losses, but after a sharp decline to the lower level to stay the decline and after the fifteen minutes quotations barely started.

Bullish operations among the industrial shares were more noticeable than among the general market. General Motors and American Ice were especially heavy, being affected by the demand of dividend amounts.

Paris unexpectedly engaged $2,000,000

A cash loss of nearly $3,000,000, instead of the expected small gain, was shown in the bank statement. In spite of the week's new financing, there was only a small increase in the loan account. The surplus was reduced by $2,355,000.

Bonds showed an easier tendency. Total sales, par value, $1,500,000.
